

Constructionline

A UK GOVERNMENT CERTIFICATION SERVICE

Shropshire Housing Group now use Constructionline to pre-qualify all contractors and consultants in order to help suppliers reduce the amount of administration required in the pre-qualification process. If you wish to work with us, please ensure you have registered as a member.

What is Constructionline?

Constructionline is a UK government owned verification service for construction – related contractors, consultants and material suppliers. It has been developed to save the industry millions of pounds by cutting the amount of duplication in the pre-qualification process.

By joining Constructionline you will have satisfied our basic pre-qualification requirements. This means you will only need to submit your Constructionline registration number and any project-specific details to pre-qualify for contracts.
